留学生プログラム「仙台防災枠組に貢献する防災中核人材育成」
2021年度

This information pertains to one of the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA)'s Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Long-Term). This handout gives current information on the overview of the program. It may change depending on the situation and more precise information will be provided in case of any changes. This program will be implemented as part of the Official Development Assistance of the Government of Japan based on bilateral agreement between both governments.

Each country may have its own schedule and/or qualifications for the program. Please contact JICA office in your country if you have any questions.

In the context of the COVID-19 pandemic, please note that there is a possibility that the any changes will occur.

I. Overview

Background

Across the world, the number of natural disasters has increased in recent years, and in particular, there was a remarkable increase in economic damage. Disasters tend to occur in hazardous areas repeatedly and have huge impact on lives, livelihood and local economy. Much of the suffering caused by disaster damage affects the vulnerable, especially those in lower income brackets. Consequently, disaster risk reduction is regarded critical for sustainable economic growth.

Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015–2030 was adopted at the Third UN World Conference on Disaster Risk Reduction held in March 2015, as a framework aiming to “substantially reduce disaster risk, and the loss of lives and livelihoods”. The Sendai Framework aligns the post 2015 development agenda such as Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and Paris Agreement. In the Sendai Framework, seven global targets were agreed and only the Global Target (e) -- National and local disaster risk reduction strategies -- is planned to be achieved by 2020 as it is essential for all disaster risk reduction activities. Each country has a primary responsibility to implement and monitor the Sendai Framework in accordance with the Guiding Principal of that.

Japan is the one of the disaster-prone countries in the world and has a long history to coexist with natural disasters such as earthquakes, tsunamis, typhoons, floods and landslides. This history of natural disasters and disaster risk reduction in Japan has generated unique “culture of disaster risk reduction” and various DRR knowledge and activities have been passed down through the generations since old times. Based on the accumulation of experience, Japan is well known for the DRR leading country in the present day. During the formulation process of the Sendai Framework, Japan reiterated the importance of “Investment in Disaster Risk Reduction”, “Mainstreaming Disaster Risk Reduction” and “Build Back Better” and these concepts were accepted in the framework.

Thus it will be the best opportunity to study and research on DRR field in Japan for deepening the understanding of the Sendai Framework and learning advanced DRR knowledge and technologies
